Economies in other East Asian countries continued to show recovery led by external demand, but domestic demand in Southeast Asia were sluggish due to the resurgence of infections resulting from delayed vaccine rollouts.

The Japanese economy witnessed steady growth in the manufacturing sector overall backed by increased export with the recovery of overseas economies, but the continued state of emergency weighed on the recovery of personal consumption and non-manufacturing sectors.

(Note) Please refer to the Presentation Material “Financial Results: The 1st 6 Months of FY Ending March 2022” disclosed on November 10, 2021 for the earnings forecast by segment.

(Reason of revision)

During the six months ended September 30, 2021, net sales and operating income have continued to grow due to the robust transport demand associated with the recovery of the global economy which was affected by COVID-19 and the rise in freight cost and sales prices caused by the shortage of transportation space in air and sea freight since the year ended March 31, 2021.

For the second half of the year ending March 31, 2022, the Company expects that the business environment surrounding the Group will remain the same as the first half for a while although the future outlook of the global economic trend is uncertain with factors including the situation of COVID-19, the impact of semiconductor shortage on the manufacturing sector, and supply chain disruptions.

In light of such circumstances, we carefully examined again the consolidated earnings forecasts for the year ending March 31, 2022 and revised as shown above.

(Note) Cautionary Statement concerning Earnings Forecasts

(4) Notes to the Quarterly Consolidated Financial Statements

(Notes concerning Going Concern Assumption)

Not applicable.

(Significant Changes in Shareholders' Equity)

Not applicable.

(Changes in Significant Subsidiaries during the Period)

Not applicable.

(Changes in Accounting policies)

On April 1, 2021, the Company applied the "Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition" (ASBJ Statement No. 29, March 31, 2020; "Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition"), etc., and recognizes revenue at an amount that it expects to receive in exchange for the promised goods or services when the control of the goods or services is transferred to a customer.

Accordingly, the Company changed the revenue recognition method to recognize revenue from a performance obligation that is satisfied over time based on the progress towards complete satisfaction of such performance obligation.

In applying the Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition, etc. from April 1, 2021, the Company followed the transitional treatment stipulated by a provisory clause of Paragraph 84 of the Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition, and any cumulative effects of the retrospective application, assuming the new accounting standard had been applied to periods prior to April 1, 2021, were adjusted to the beginning balance of retained earnings as of April 1, 2021.

As a result, the balance of retained earnings as of April 1, 2021 decreased 107 million yen. Impacts on net sales, operating income, ordinary income, and income before income taxes were insignificant.

On April 1, 2021, the Company applied the "Accounting Standard for Fair Value Measurement" (ASBJ Statement No.30, July 4, 2019; "Accounting Standard for Fair Value Measurement"), etc., and the new accounting policies stipulated in the Accounting Standard for Fair Value Measurement, etc. are applied prospectively pursuant to the transitional treatment stipulated by Paragraph 19 of the Accounting Standard for Fair Value Measurement and Paragraph 44-2 of the "Accounting Standard for Financial Instruments" (ASBJ Statement No. 10, July 4, 2019). The application has no impact on the quarterly consolidated financial statements.

(Application of Special Accounting Treatment in Preparing the Quarterly Consolidated Financial Statements)

(Calculation of tax expenses)

Tax expenses are calculated as income before income taxes for the period multiplied by the estimated effective tax rate. The effective tax rate is reasonably estimated taking into consideration deferred tax accounting as the rate applicable to income before income taxes for the consolidated fiscal year including the six months ended September 30, 2021.
