Tariff Updates

CBP Updates:

- U.S. Customs & Border Protection (CBP) has provided updated guidance on import duties on imports for Aluminum and Aluminum Derivative Products via CSMS 65288784 which provides an updated list of aluminum HTS subject to Section 232.
- U.S. Customs & Border Protection (CBP) has also provided updated guidance on import duties on imports for Steel and Steel Derivative Products via CSMS 65289012 which provides an updated list of steel HTS subject to Section 232.
- Both above HTS updates were made to align them with Executive Order 14289.
- Steel and aluminum imports from the U.K. will remain at the 25% tariff rate through July 9, 2025. The Commerce Secretary may adjust the applicable rates of duty at that time, even increasing the duty to 50% if he determines that the U.K. has not complied with relevant aspects of the U.S.-U.K. Economic Prosperity Deal \(EPD\) of May 8, 2025. See details of the Proclamation of June 3, 2025.
- Mexico and Canada oppose the increased steel and aluminum duties and have requested that the rates remain the same as those applied to the U.K. See Mexico Press Conference, Carney Press Conference.
